

THE FILM MAKERS TOOLKIT

Enabling filmmakers to help change the societal narrative around Domestic Abuse and Sexual Violence.

16 DAYS 16 FILMS UK SAYS NO MORE

#WHATICANDO

Thank you for your contribution to raising awareness of gender-based violence. It does not need to end here, there are many ways in which you can contribute, here are just a few ideas:

 Host a Screening of your film - Get the community involved and use your film as a catalyst to spark conversations around gender based violence.

 Shop - Get your NO MORE pin plus other exclusive items in our shop.

 Follow @UKSAYSNOMORE - follow us on social media and tag us in your posts. We want to hear what you are doing to raise awareness. Promote your work using the hashtags #16Days16Films or #16Days

Get writing - Do you have something to say?

We're interested in hearing about your film, your thoughts and ideas around domestic abuse and sexual violence.

Write for us - We publish blogs of 500 - 1000 words on our website and promote to our audiences.

Get involved in your local community response to domestic abuse and sexual violence. Share your film with your local women's center, refuge or rape crisis centre.

Show your support

Join other UK SAYS NO MORE supporters by visiting our website and uploading your image and message of saying NO MORE

Keep informed - sign up to the UK SAYS NO MORE newsletter.

On the UK SAYS NO MORE website you can download resources such as posters and toolkits specific to domestic abuse and sexual violence.

WHAT IS NEXT?

Is your next film about gender-based violence in development, if so consider the following:

Consultation - perhaps your exploration of gender-based violence has not stopped here. Consider consulting with specialists and survivors next time, we'll be happy to put you in touch with specialist services.

Trigger warnings - We don't know who watches our films and sometimes a scene within them may act as a trigger for someone who has endured domestic abuse and sexual violence. It's always a great idea to share information about what support is available such as; include 24 hour helplines, digital resources like the Bright Sky App and emergency numbers.

Headlines matter - Consider how your work is being described, avoid and challenge any sensationalism of the content of the film or those that have shared their lived experience with you.

Supporting your event - Are you considering hosting an event to showcase your work?

You can purchase printed materials from us such as posters and toolkits. We also offer fun materials such as stickers and tattoos!

Become a partner - UK SAYS NO MORE has over 350 partners made up of individuals, organisations and collectives, who have all said yes to the opportunity to share, promote and engage with the campaign. You can be one of them.

Branding - UK SAYS NO MORE, is part of the NO MORE network of campaigns, from North America, Australia to South Africa. We produce open-source resources which are available to download at UKSAYSNOMORE.org

16 DAYS 16 FILMS UK SAYS NO MORE

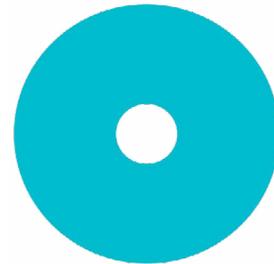

THANK YOU

Thank you for entering your film into the 16 Days 16 Films competition.

Together with Modern Films, UK SAYS NO MORE in partnership with the Kering Foundation for Women present this years 16 Films 16 Days.

Launched in 2018, 16 Films 16 Days aims to raise awareness of gender-based violence, using the backdrop of the internationally recognised 16 days of Activism. Started by activists at the first Women's Global Leadership Institute in 1991, 16 Days of Activism against Gender-Based Violence is recognised by the United Nations and has continued annually to this day. Every year from 25 November, International Day for the Elimination of Violence against Women and Girls, to 10 December, Human Rights Day organisations across the world do their part to end gender - based violence.

ABOUT

UK SAYS NO MORE - UK SAYS NO MORE unites and strengthens a diverse community of members under one powerful, visual symbol, and provides open-source tools, information and resources for individuals and organisations to get involved. Together, we are challenging the myths and misconceptions around domestic abuse and sexual violence, sharing resources and information and ultimately working together to make real positive social change. UK SAYS NO MORE is a national campaign launched to raise awareness of domestic abuse and sexual violence across the UK. Launched in 2016 and facilitated by London crisis charity Hestia. UK SAYS NO MORE has over 250 campaign partners from the Old Vic to Uber who are all working together to say NO MORE to domestic abuse and sexual violence.

MODERN FILMS - Modern Films is a London-based, female-led film production, distribution and event cinema agency. Established in 2017 with a mandate to work on stories that address social issues head-on through film and media content, they launched with the Event Cinema release of Manifesto starring Cate Blanchett and with Executive Production on the BAFTA-winning I am Not a Witch. They focus on A-list festival competitors, critically acclaimed titles and international award winners. Highlights of their slate include Alice Rohrwacher's Happy as Lazzaro, Iciar Bollain's Yuli: The Carlos Acosta Story, documentary Shooting the Mafia by Kim Longinotto and the upcoming The Perfect Candidate by Haifaa al Mansour.

KERING FOUNDATION - Worldwide, 1 in 3 women is or will be a victim of violence during her lifetime. Since 2008, the Kering Foundation combats this violence that affects all cultures and all social classes. To maximize its impact, the Foundation works hand in hand with a limited number of local partners in the three main regions where the Group operates: the American continent, Western Europe and Asia. The Foundation supports local survivor-centered organizations that provide comprehensive services to women, and, since 2018, has begun working with younger generations, particularly young men and boys, to combat violence against women through prevention programs. The Foundation also seeks to change behaviors within Kering and in society in general. It offers training sessions on domestic violence for Kering employees and created, in 2018, alongside the FACE Foundation, "One in Three Women", the first European network of companies engaged against gender-based violence. The Foundation also organizes international awareness campaigns (White Ribbon For Women, on the occasion of the International Day for the Elimination of Violence Against Women), all the while involving Kering's 35,000 employees worldwide.
